

Four Corners CRC Couple Start Small Group Ministry

Submitted by James and Darlene Litson, Teenospos Four Corners CRC

The call to be small group ministry developers (through the CRC Home Missions regional team) was a surprise. Since we came on board back in March of 2006, this journey has been challenging but full of surprises. The Lord has been with us every step of the way. Everything is very new to us. However, we are learning everyday as we meet with people and establish relationships with them.

We have attended a couple of conferences. Both have very helpful, but the one we attended in Long Beach, CA really shed more light on what small group ministry is about. Since we started this ministry, we have been working with members of our congregation, visiting them at their homes and explaining what we're doing. They have been very responsive. We also started a prayer meeting aside from the regular weekly prayer meeting. In addition, we also started a weekly Bible study. We recently started another Bible study, but this is in Red Valley.

We would like to visit all the churches within the Red Mesa Classis and meet the congregations. Perhaps one of them would be interested in what small group has to offer. This ministry will take time and much prayer with fasting.

Please keep us in your prayers.
